Letter dated the 18th October 1921 from Mr. J.C. Nollo, Professor of English, Maharaja's College, Mysore, to the Registrar, Mysore University, Mysore

I have the honour to request that his letter may kindly be forwarded for the consideration of Government.

I request that Government may be pleased to grant me an allowance corresponding to the overseas allowance which has for some time been given to the British members of the Indian Educational Service. Ever since the revision of terms in that service I have been hoping that similar changes would follow in Mysore, and it is with much reluctance that at length I make a personal request I am ~~obliged~~ to do so, however, since I find it absolutely impossible to cope with the new conditions of expenditure on the old conditions of salary.

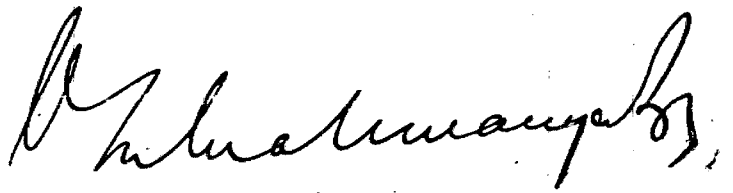

All circumstances are identical with those in the Indian Educational Service, work, qualifications, and difficulties due to economic changes are obviously the same in both cases. The I.E.S., changes were made as a result of absolute necessity, and exactly the same necessity exists in Mysore. Further, remuneration has always been the same in the Mysore as in the Indian Educational Service: and in joining the Mysore Service one naturally assumed that this parity would always continue, since there is no possible reason for difference.

The raising of the maximum does not at present concern me. I am writing as a European Officer, to whom the overseas allowance is an immediate necessity. The circumstances that make necessary do not, of course, require elaboration the saving for expensive passages, the inevitable expensiveness of European living in India the mere fact that one is serving abroad with its many implications. I have to say, personally, that, while very far from living extravagantly, I see no prospect of ever being able to save even enough money for passages. The only way of getting home on leave for a thorough enough is to sell one's possessions and begin life again on one's one's return. The situation gives one an intolerable feeling of hopelessness, which saps one's enthusiasm. Comparison with conditions in the I.L.S., makes it ~~more~~ the more trying.

I have no doubt that the whole matter is engaging the attention of Government, but I am anxious to make clear the position in which I and of course others stand. I earnestly hope that Government may find it possible not merely to grant this allowance now but also, whether now or later, to compensate for past difficulties by sanctioning its payment from the date from which it was allowed in the case of the Indian Educational Service.
